This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at `http://books.google.com/`

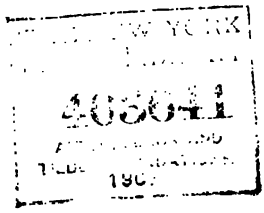
READING LIST ON BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, pp. 18–23.

JANUARY, 1906

CAMBRIDGE PUBLIC LIBRARY BULLETIN

VOL. XI. NO. 1

MONK & BORDLEY, PRINTERS, 114 AUSTIN ST.
CAMBRIDGE, MASS.



THE BULLETIN.

The Cambridge Public Library Bulletin will be published on or about the 15th day of each month. Copies may be had free at the library and at the local delivery stations. The cost of the Bulletin sent by mail is twenty-five cents per annum, payable in advance.

Books which have the letter R in place of the call number may be found in the reference library.

The letter j placed before the call number of a book indicates that it is intended particularly for juvenile readers.

A gift to the library is indicated by the letter (G) following the title of the work.

Coleridge, Bernard John Seymour, 2d baron Coleridge. The story of a Devonshire house, by Lord Coleridge, K.C. London, 1905. Ports., plates, geneal. tab. 23cm. B–C6783

A history of three generations of the house of Coleridge, beginning with John Coleridge, son of the weaver of Crediton. A large part of the work is devoted to John Taylor Coleridge, judge of the court of queen's bench and father of first baron Coleridge, the lord chief justice of England.

Désirée (Clary), wife of Bernadotte, afterwards Charles XIV, king of Sweden. Bearne, Mrs. Catherine M. A queen of Napoleon's court: the life story of Désirée Bernadotte. Illustrated from contemporary portraits, and from drawings by E. H. Bearne. N.Y. [London], 1905. 21cm. B–D4615b

Froude, James Anthony. Paul, Herbert Woodfield. The life of Froude. N.Y. [London], 1905. 2 ports. 22cm. B–F938p

"It must be admitted that Mr. Paul's work is not so much a life of the brilliant English historian as an essay on Froude's life and opinions. There is, perhaps, nothing really new in the volume, but there is certainly a great deal of vigorous, pungent, and intellectually brilliant comment on the views and accomplishments of the late historian."—Review of reviews.

Hübmaier, Balthasar. Vedder, Henry Clay. Balthasar Hübmaier, the leader of the anabaptists. N. Y., 1905. Ports., plates, fold. map. (Heroes of the reformation series; ed. by Samuel Macauley Jackson.) 20cm. B–H864v

Ibsen, Henrik. Letters. Tr. by John Nilsen Laurvik and Mary Morison. N.Y., 1905. Port. 23cm. B–Ib75

"Ibsen's Letters extending over a period of more than fifty years, provide us with a direct presentment of the man during the changing conditions of his life and of his friendships, and contain much, of both biographical and literary interest, that has never before been made public."—Introduction.

BIOGRAPHY.

Individual.

Austen, Jane. Mitton, G. E. Jane Austen and her times. London, 1905. Front., plates, ports. 23cm. B–Au72mi

"The object of this book is to show her among the scenes wherein she moved, to sketch the men and women to whom she was accustomed, the habits and manners of her class, and the England with which she was familiar. Her life was not long, lasting only from 1775 to 1817."—Author.

Churchill, Lord Randolph Henry Spencer. Churchill, Winston Spencer Leonard. [Life of] Lord Randolph Churchill. N. Y., 1906. 2 v. Fronts., plates, ports., 3 facsim. 23cm. B–C477

"The brilliancy of Mr. Churchill's achievement lies in the fact that he has to a remarkable extent avoided the pitfalls of the partisan, and treated his subject on the broad lines of the historian of politics. . . . The work is a valuable contribution to the history of the last century, and not less to that small but attractive province of English letters, biographical art."—Spectator.

Clarke, Sir Andrew. Vetch, Robert Hamilton, ed. Life of Lieut. General the Hon. Sir Andrew Clarke, colonel-commandant of Royal engineers, agent-general of Victoria,

Australia. With a preface by Col. Sir G. S. Clarke. N. Y. [London], 1905. Front., plates, ports., 2 fold. maps. 22cm. B–C5515

"To have played a part in the early struggles of two of the Australasian colonies, to have undertaken engineering works on a large scale, to have settled complex native problems in the Straits Settlements, and to have served on the viceroy's council would have been enough for most men; but Sir Andrew Clarke was a man of such unceasing activity that these achievements were but a part of his career."—Academy.

Geoffrin, Mme. Marie Thérèse (Rodet). Aldis, Janet. Madame Geoffrin: her salon and her times, 1750–1777. London, 1905. Front., plates, ports., facsim. title-page. 22cm. B–G2916

"It treats of an interesting age; its pages teem with famous names; and the scraps of information of which it is made up are of exactly the right kind. That is to say, they will add nothing to the student of the eighteenth century in France, while they meet perfectly the needs of those who would like to know something about that century without studying it."—Athenæum.

Haydon, Benjamin Robert. Symonds, Emily Morse. (George Paston.) B. R. Haydon and his friends. N. Y. [London], 1905. Front., plates, ports. 22cm. B–H3265s

"The concise and well-balanced account of his career which 'George Paston' has prepared is well worth reading for its reproduction of the atmosphere in which generations of British artists have lived. . . . No one who studies his life and personality fails to recognize the gleam of the divine fire that he possessed."—Royal Cortissoz in the Atlantic monthly.

Bradley, Arthur Granville. In the march and borderland of Wales. With sketches of the country, by W. M. Meredith. London, 1905. Fold. map. 24cm.
914.29–B721

"This record of a long summer's wanderings was in some sort intended to cover those portions of Wales that I had not touched in either of my former books on that country, with further excursions into regions intimately connected with it."—Preface.

Little, Mrs. Alicia (Bewicke). Round about my Peking garden. London, 1905. Col. front, plates. 23cm. 915.1–L7222

"A collection of sketches of north China, somewhat loosely held together by the idea expressed in the title. . . . In her knowledge of the real China, Mrs. Archibald Little admittedly stands unrivalled among living European women."—Athenæum.

Norman, Philip. London, vanished and vanishing. Painted and described by Philip Norman. London [1905]. 75 col. pl. 23cm. 914.21–N78

"This is one of the beautiful books which Messrs. Black have for some time been bringing out, to the great delight of all who love the picturesque. . . . This particular volume we may hail with especial pleasure, because it gives an enduring existence to buildings and places that materially have disappeared."—Spectator.

Passmore, Thomas Henry. In further Ardenne: a study of the grand duchy of Luxembourg. London [1905]. Front., plates, map. 23cm. 914.935–P26

"An ample historical sketch traces the fortunes of the duchy through its vicissitudes as a battleground of central Europe to its present state as neutral, inviolable territory; the remaining, and larger, part of the work dealing with description and comment concerning people, life, and customs as studied by the author."—Nation.

Phillipps, L. March. In the desert [of Sahara]. London, 1905. Front., plates, map, plans. 23cm. 916.6–P54

"Whether you consider Arab architecture, or Arab religion, or Arab poetry, or Arab philosophy, it seems that a description of the desert forms the indispensable preface to them all. Accordingly I think that, if I can succeed in giving the reader a true impression of desert scenery, he will not object to tracing the effects of that scenery in desert poetry and art."—Preface.

CAMBRIDGE PUBLIC LIBRARY BULLETIN

VOL. XI. NO. 6

J. FRANK FACEY, PRINTER, 36 PROSPECT STREET
CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

C. P. L.

THE BULLETIN.

The Cambridge Public Library Bulletin will be published on or about the 15th day of each month. Copies may be had free at the library and at the local delivery stations. The cost of the Bulletin sent by mail is twenty-five cents per annum, payable in advance.

Books which have the letter R in place of the call number may be found in the reference library.

The letter j placed before the call number of a book indicates that it is intended particularly for juvenile readers.

A gift to the library is indicated by the letter (G) following the title of the work.

NOTICE.

The next number of the BULLETIN will appear in September, 1906.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

PHILOSOPHY.

Dickinson, Goldsworthy Lowes. The meaning of good: a dialogue. London, 1906. 19cm. 171–D56

Jastrow, Joseph. The subconscious. Boston, 1906. 21cm. 130–J311

"A survey of a comprehensive aspect of human psychic endowment." — Preface.

Thomas Aquinas, Saint. Of God and his creatures: an annotated translation (with some abridgement) of the Summa contra Gentiles, by Joseph Rickaby. London, 1905. 34 x 22cm. 189–T36

RELIGION.

Barry, William Francis. The tradition of Scripture: its origin, authority, and interpretation. London, 1906. (The Westminster library: a series of manuals for catholic priests and students; ed. by Bernard Ward and Herbert Thurston.) 20cm. 282–B2791

Foster, George Burman. The finality of the Christian religion. Chicago, 1906. (Decennial publications of the University of Chicago. Second series, vol. 16.) 23cm. 201–F81

"In the light of the mystery and underivability of personality on the one hand, and of evolution on the other, the problem of the book is discussed." — Introduction.

Hall, Charles Cuthbert. Christian belief interpreted by Christian experience: lectures delivered in India, Ceylon, and Japan on the Barrows foundation. With an introductory note by the vice-chancellor of the University of Bombay. Chicago, 1906. (The Barrows lectures, 1902–03.) 23cm. 230–H14

Acton, Sir John Emerich Edward Dalberg Acton, 1st baron. Lord Acton and his circle. Ed. by Abbot Gasquet. N. Y. [London], 1906. Front. (port). 23cm. B–Ac82a

"The letters contained in the present volume are of surpassing interest. They exhibit Lord Acton in the heyday of his youth and the plentitude of his power, working with heroic zeal and energy for the intellectualisation of the Catholic church in England. It may be objected that this book is too full of editorial details, but they are necessary for the appreciation of Acton's character. But there are green places of serene philosophy which are of infinite value, and much light is thrown on the development of Acton's mind.—Saturday review.

Brandes, Georg. Reminiscences of my childhood and youth. N. Y., 1906. 23cm. B–B735

"It is a piece of self-revelation by a master of psychological analysis, and it is a picture of events and personages prominent on the page of European history in the third quarter of the nineteenth century seen through the prism of a very rich temperament."—Literary digest.

Churchill, Lord Randolph Henry Spencer. Rosebery, Archibald Philip Primrose, 5th earl of. [Life of] Lord Randolph Churchill. N. Y., 1906. Front. (port). 23cm. B–C477r

"Lord Rosebery's little book on Lord Randolph Churchill is by far the most interesting production of his pen. . . . But what this monograph lacks in care and polish is more than made up for by its spontaneity, and by the vital interest of Lord Rosebery's comments on the political parties of his own day, and on a career which has some striking points of resemblance to his own."—Saturday review.

Diaz, Porfirio. Tweedie, Mrs. Ethel B. (Harley). The maker of modern Mexico, Porfirio Diaz. London, 1906. Front., plates, ports., 2 maps. 25cm. B–D5426t

Irving, Sir Henry. Stoker, Bram. Personal reminiscences of Henry Irving. N. Y., 1906. 2 v. Fronts., plates, facsims. 23cm. B–Ir86s

"Mr. Stoker has . . . paid a tribute to his dead friend which is likely to keep him long in remembrance as the greatest manager and one of the most impressive actors of his time, a splendid host, a charming companion, and most virile man, one who not only achieved success, but deserved it."—Nation.

Lever, Charles. Downey, Edmund, ed. Charles Lever: his life in his letters. Edinburgh, 1906. 2 v. Fronts. (ports). 23cm. B–L575

"The present work deals mainly with his literary life, and contains, especially in the second volume, fresh and illuminating material which was not disclosed to Lever's previous biographer, and which affords an intimate view of the novelist as he saw himself and his work."—Preface.

Lincoln, Abraham. Hill, Frederick Trevor. Lincoln the lawyer. N. Y., 1906. Front., illus., plates, ports., facsims. 21cm. B–L633hi

"To read this book is to be convinced that Abraham Lincoln, if he had never occupied the White house, would have fully deserved to rank among the great lawyers of his generation. Mr. Hill's researches have brought to light a vast amount of interesting data concerning the bench and bar of Illinois in Lincoln's time."—Review of reviews.

Mancini family. Williams, Hugh Noel. Five fair sisters: an Italian episode at the court of Louis XIV. N. Y. [London], 1906. 17 ports. (incl. front). 23cm. B–M3117w

A biography of the Mancini sisters, nieces of Cardinal Mazarin.

Tennyson, Alfred, 1st baron. Ellison, Mrs. Edith Nicholl (Bradley). A child's recollections of Tennyson. N. Y., 1906. 2 pl. (incl. front), 7 ports. 10cm. B–T256e

The author is a daughter of Dean Bradley of Westminster.

Whitman, Walt. Perry, Bliss. Walt Whitman: his life and work. Boston, 1906. Front., plates, ports., facsims. 19cm. B–W596c

"The volume will probably take its place as the sane and authoritative life of Whitman for many years to come."—Nation.
